4 Modules of Virtuelle Hochschule Bayern (vhb)

The following courses of the "Virtuelle Hochschule Bayern" (vhb) can be credited as compulsory elective module management discipline:

- International Marketing
- Leadership and Communication in Global Business

The following courses of the "Virtuelle Hochschule Bayern" (vhb) can be credited as compulsory elective module sustainability discipline:

- Humanitarian supply chain management

You can find more information on the contents, learning objectives, examination dates, examination form and examination venue at www.vhb.org. If you would like to take part in the course, you must register for it at the vhb, enroll in the chosen course and take the examination after completing the course. You do not need to register for an examination at the THI. The vhb courses are free of charge for you.

After passing the examination, please submit an application for credit/recognition of achievements and periods of professional practice exclusively digitally, via the PRIMUSS student portal under "My studies > Credit/recognition of achievements and periods of professional practice" and upload the graded certificate of the examiner (original). If credit is possible, the examination performance of the vhb course will be entered in the grade sheet with the title of the vhb course. Please note that a mere confirmation of participation is not sufficient for crediting.

Note: You can find the application for "Crediting/recognition of achievements and periods of professional practice" in PRIMUSS under "My studies > Crediting/recognition of achievements and periods of professional practice".

If you would like to receive credit for a vhb course other than those listed above, please contact the course director before starting the course to clarify whether the course can be credited. Please note that no courses with online examinations / online tests can be credited.

The courses offered at the vhb are not guaranteed by the THI or the GBM degree program and may change at short notice or on a semester-by-semester basis.

Please note also: Experience has shown that the issuing of graded certificates after an examination at the vhb takes some time and often extends into the next semester. We therefore recommend that you do not attend vhb courses in the last semester of your studies, as this can lead to an extension of your studies! If you would still like to attend vhb courses in the last semester of your studies, please make sure to contact the respective lecturer of the course so that the issuing of the certificate can be accelerated if necessary.

5 Introduction to the module descriptions

1. Generic Legislation

The module guide elucidates the curriculum of the study program in detail and describes the modules and the courses of it. This handbook is a subsidiary of the respective Study and Exam Regulation of the study program, the General Statute of the University and the General Exam Regulations for Universities in Bavaria.

Das Modulhandbuch erläutert den Ablauf des Studiums im Einzelnen und beschreibt detailliert die einzelnen Module und Fächer. Übergeordnet zum Studienplan wird auf die gültige Studien- und Prüfungsordnung SPO WS 20/21 des Studiengangs, die gültige Allgemeine Prüfungsordnung der Technischen Hochschule Ingolstadt sowie die gültige Rahmenprüfungsordnung für die Fachhochschulen in Bayern hingewiesen.

2. Modules and Courses

The module guide is divided into modules.

Das Modulhandbuch untergliedert sich in Module.

3. Prerequisite of attendance

The prerequisites of attendance are specified in the qualification requirements for the study program. In this regard an explicit reference is made to the respective Study and Exam Regulation SPO WS 20/21.

Voraussetzungen für die Teilnahme an Lehrveranstaltungen sind in den Zulassungsvoraussetzungen angegeben. In diesem Zusammenhang wird ausdrücklich auf die gültige Studien- und Prüfungsordnung SPO WS 20/21 hingewiesen.

4. Usability of the modules

The usability of the modules of the Bachelor's Program GBM is limited. It will be specified explicitly in case of applicability for other study programs.

Die Verwendbarkeit eines Moduls ist auf den Studiengang GBM beschränkt. Sollte das Modul auch für andere Studiengänge verwendbar sein, wird dies explizit angegeben.

5. Lecturers of the modules

The assignment of the lecturers is not binding.

Die Zuweisung der Dozenten zu den Modulen ist unverbindlich.

6. Additional lecture notes / Begleitende Lehrveranstaltungsunterlagen

Each Module has its own course room in our moodle learning platform. In the course rooms all additional learning material (scripts, tutorials, case studies, assignments with key hints, further references, journal articles, links, guides etc.) is for download available. Learning activities and the upload of preliminary and final results are announced as well.

Für jedes Modul ist auf der Lernplattform Moodle ein eigener Kursraum eingerichtet, in dem i.d.R. alle begleitenden Lehrmaterialien (Skripte, Tutorials, Fallstudien und Aufgabenstellungen mit Lösungshinweisen, Anwendungsbeispiele, Verfahrensbeschreibungen, Softwareleitfäden, weiterführende Literaturhinweise, Zeitschriftenartikel, Links auf Onlineressourcen etc.) in elektronischer Form zur Verfügung gestellt sowie Lernaktivitäten (Foren, Tests, Workshops) und der Upload von Zwischen- und Endergebnissen studentischer Arbeiten organisiert werden.

Objectives:
The goal of this course is to develop an initial understanding of different dimensions, types, and industry cases of digital transformation. The course will be guided by the following learning goals: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Students develop an understanding of the basic effects of digitalization on individuals, the society and firms.</li> <li>• Students can discuss why digital transformation remains a challenge for established companies.</li> <li>• Students can name and explain examples for digital business models and the core principles they are built on.</li> <li>• Students are able to create, scope and document a simple digital business model with instruments like the Business Model Canvas.</li> <li>• Students can explain the roles of entrepreneurship within established organizations and startups.</li> </ul>
Content:
In interactive lectures and smaller case studies, students learn about, discuss, and reflect on different aspects of digital transformation and relevant theories in this field. In addition, students are provided with contemporary tools and frameworks to design, discuss, evaluate, and visualize new and existing business models. The course is guided by the following questions we will cover during the semester:

- What is the difference between digitization, digitalization, and digital transformation, and does it matter?
- How is digital transformation impacting existing and new companies today?
- What are different dimensions, types, and industry cases of digital transformation?
- How can you use tools like the Business Model Canvas and the Operating Model Canvas to explain the status quo in a company and create different possible futures?
- How do I visualize and communicate digital transformation scenarios and business models?
- What are the difficulties when implementing new business models in an organization in response to the need for digital transformation?

Examinations:	LN - seminar paper (GBM_PSE)
Usability for other study programs:	None
Prerequisites according examination regulation:
None
Recommended prerequisites:
Knowledge beyond the university entrance qualification is not required.
Objectives:
The students know:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• how to independently define and perform unpaid activities in the non-profit / voluntary sector</li> <li>• how to initiate, plan and carry out projects independently</li> <li>• how to develop concepts and strategies in teams</li> <li>• how to lead and motivate employees</li> <li>• how to present project results in a secure and result-oriented way</li> </ul>
Content:
It is a voluntary, non-profit project, initiated and carried out by the students independently and in teams. The project may also be the continuation of an existing project, but in this case, a concept must be developed as well, which makes the further development and improvement of the existing project clear. The procedure is as follows:

- The students go directly to the associated Moodle classroom of Prof. Dr. Michael Jünger (see <https://moodle.thi.de/course/view.php?id=7412>).
- If Prof. Jünger signals the willingness to take the project, the students have to prepare a project agreement. The template for the project agreement can be found in Moodle.
- After Prof. Jünger countersigned the project agreement, the students can start. Social projects with international mindset are recommended and desirable.
- It can be done during the semester, semester-lapping or in the semester break. An informal time-log is to be kept, from which your workload can be perceived.
- After the project has been completed, you ask the Prof. Jünger for a presentation date. The presentation has a duration of 5-7 minutes per project participant. Content of the presentation is: Motivation, Project Content, Results, Lessons Learned. (Attention: The request for a presentation date should be made at least 4 weeks before the start of the examination period, otherwise an entry in the same semester is not guaranteed!)
- After a successful presentation, the students develop a profile and a poster about the project and send it to Prof. Jünger n by email.
- In the profile the team members are listed by name e.g. If you disagree with the publication of the project profile in any form, please submit an objection by e-mail an Prof. Jünger.

Subjects of the module:	Praktisches Studiensemester (20 Wochen) / Internship Semester
Lecture types:	Practical training
Examinations:	Internship report
Usability for other study programs:	The module meets the requirements of the internship (20 weeks) in B.A. International Management.
Prerequisites according examination regulation:
Prerequisites can be found in the Study and examination regulations (SPO) of this study program.
Recommended prerequisites:
We strongly recommend to pass the theoretical and practical semester abroad en bloc, i.e within one year in the chosen focus region of study.
Objectives:
The students: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• know different business-related processes and tasks in companies or organizations</li> <li>• define management related tasks and are able to contribute to their solution</li> <li>• acquire managerial skills</li> <li>• are able to handle tasks and conduct activities appropriate for a graduate in business administration or economics.</li> <li>• act confidently in an intercultural surrounding.</li> </ul>
Content:
The practical semester is built upon the basic competences acquired in the first study section plus relevant majors. Students serve their internship for 20 weeks in an international company or organisation abroad. They acquire deeper insights into tasks regularly performed by a graduate in business administration or economics by self-responsibly discharge business-related functions. The students thereby gain competences and expertise in order to swiftly overtake business-oriented tasks and therefore master his/her career entry. By conducting the internship abroad, the intercultural competences are trained and emphasized in a practical context.

The students are familiar with the idea of supply chain management in a global context. The participants know how to link the company's strategies and goals with the design of international logistics networks. They are able to understand the opportunities as a result of effective and efficient supply chain operations. Particularly, the students realize the great importance of the application of advanced planning systems as well as the reflection of cultural aspects in supply chain design. The participants of the course are sensitive to interdependencies between different processes in the international supply chain and know about the importance of intercompany process alignments when applying a comprehensive supply chain perspective.

The goals of the course are related to both content and project organization. Students learn to work independently on an actual logistics and operations topic. They are familiar with finding appropriate sources and integrating them into a creative process for working on their case study. They apply methodologies learned in other courses to their individual topic and present the procedure and the results in an understandable and precise way to their fellow students.
Content:
In the center of this module is a student project. The project can be completed alone or in a small group of maximum three students. The content is related to the course GBM-Global Supply Chain Management I and covers actual topics in the field of Operations and Supply Chain Management.

6.3 Major Fields of Study 2

Each student must choose exactly one Major Field of Study 2. Each Major Field of Study 2 consists of the modules Global Management and Intercultural Competencies in combination with the chosen target region EMEA, AMER or APAC. Global Management and Intercultural Competencies are each separate modules that must be covered by a course at the partner university.

A learning agreement must be arranged in advance with Prof. Dr. Kathrin Tissot-Daguette. From the three available options, please select a specialization that matches your choice of world region and thus your choice of partner university and internship abroad. Further information on learning agreements is available from Prof. Tissot-Daguette.

The following specializations are available for selection:

- Global Management and Intercultural Competencies EMEA
  - o Modul 1: Global Management EMEA
  - o Modul 2: Intercultural Competencies EMEA
- Global Management and Intercultural Competencies AMER
  - o Modul 1: Global Management AMER
  - o Modul 2: Intercultural Competencies AMER
- Global Management and Intercultural Competencies APAC
  - o Modul 1: Global Management APAC
  - o Modul 2: Intercultural Competencies APAC
